The Power of Local

Spring into Financial Literacy Month!

April is Financial Literacy Month and a great time to focus on financial education. We are committed to providing our customers and communities with resources they need to make wise financial decisions.

Next month you'll find our employees presenting educational seminars at schools, libraries and senior centers to all age groups - from preschoolers to senior citizens. We'll also be sponsoring and presenting small business education seminars throughout our Chambers of Commerce on topics such as understanding tax laws and obtaining business financing.

Check the Events section on our website, and our Facebook and LinkedIn pages to see what we're up to, not just in the month of April, but all year long!
